General Information

Beginning of Classes and Changes to Course Meeting Locations and Times

Classes begin on Monday, September 19, 2005. While the meeting times and locations are listed for most courses, graduate courses of reading and research (level 300/3000 and above) are typically not included. Please contact the appropriate department for additional information about meeting times and locations.

This course information is accurate as of August 19, 2005. For changes to courses (including status and meeting time), please refer to the on-line Courses of Instruction at www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu. For changes to classroom assignments, refer to the Addendum to the Courses of Instruction Supplement (updated regularly) at www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu or proceed to the listed location and check the classroom entrance(s) for updates.

Exceptions to a course’s regular first meeting are included.

“Consult xxxx” is listed when either meeting time or location was not available at time of printing.

For descriptions of the courses listed, read the Courses of Instruction catalog or visit the Registrar’s Office website at www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu.

Supplement Key

Students who take courses marked with an asterisk (*) must obtain the course instructor’s signature on their Study Cards. Undergraduates must also obtain the instructor’s signature for any 200-level or 2000-level course (except English 200 and Romance Language 200-level courses unless otherwise noted).

Independent Study

Any Sophomore, Junior, or Senior in the College may petition to undertake Independent Study. Independent Study petitions are available in each Allston Burr Senior Tutor’s Office.

Sectioning Information

Germanic Languages

Sectioning for German A and German Da will be held on Monday, September 19, 1:30-3:30 pm in Barker Center 110. Note: German A will hold its first meeting Tuesday, September 20, at 9, 10, 11 or 12 in Barker Center 024. German Da will hold its first meeting Wednesday, September 21, at 9, 11 or 12 in Sever Hall 112. All other German language courses will meet as scheduled.

Romance Languages—Catalan, French, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish

For instructions on sectioning for all lettered courses and all numbered courses under 60 in Catalan, French, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish, students should read the individual course descriptions in the Courses of Instruction or in the on-line course catalog. To access the on-line catalog, go to www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu/Courses/ and click on “Romance Languages and Literatures.” In most cases, students fill out an on-line sectioning form on the course’s website (accessible via the Registrar’s website or www.fas.harvard.edu/~rll/) and receive notification of the date, time, and location of the first class meeting via email. Note: Most French, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish language courses will have their first meeting on Wednesday, September 21, or Thursday, September 22, depending on the course schedule. Exceptions will be listed on the individual course websites. The same sectioning procedures will be followed for the spring term 2006.

Mathematics

To enroll in Math Xa, 1a, 1b, 21a, or 21b, students must section by computer no later than 1 pm on Wednesday, September 21. Directions for sectioning by computer: If you have an email account, log onto the Harvard computer system, and instead of typing “pine,” type “ssh section@ulam.fas.harvard.edu” and follow the instructions. 1st Meetings: Math Xa will meet on Monday, September 19, at 8:30 am, in Science Center D. Math 1a will meet on Tuesday, September 20, at 8:30 am, in Science Center D. Math 1b will meet on Monday, September 19, at 8:30 am, in Science Center C. Math 21a will meet on Tuesday, September 20, at 8:30 am, in Science Center C. Math 21b will meet on Monday, September 19, at 8:30 am, in Science Center A. 1st Classes: 1st class for Math 20 (non sectioned course) will be held on Monday, September 19. 1st classes for Math Xa, 1a, 1b, 21a, and 21b will be held on Monday, September 26.
Registration and Electronic Course Enrollment

Registration

Harvard College

Harvard College students will register for the term using an electronic tool instead of the hard-copy “I Am Here” card that was previously included in the paper registration packets. The electronic tool will be easy to use and should take only a few minutes to complete. Available through the “Campus Resources” tab of the my.harvard portal, students will authenticate themselves using their HUID and PIN and then select the option to register. The registration application will be available from Saturday, September 10th, at 7:00 am.

The deadline for completing the online registration process for freshmen will be 11:59 pm on Monday, September 12th. The deadline for upperclass students will be 11:59 pm on Friday, September 16th. In addition, please note that the online registration tool will remain live past the established deadlines. All students submitting their registrations late (based on the date and time stamp on the electronic submission) will be charged the usual fee of $50.

Graduate School of Arts and Sciences

All resident graduate students will register, in person, on September 14th at Dudley House: A–K 9:00 am–1:00 pm, L–Z 1:00 pm–4:00 pm. Students who fail to register at this time will be charged the usual late registration fee of $50 plus an additional $5 for each week thereafter.

Electronic Course Enrollment

Harvard College

This fall, the Registrar’s Office takes the existing online shopping tool and carries it one step further by allowing students to move courses from their electronic shopping cart to their electronic Study Card. Once students are sure about the courses in which they want to enroll, they will print their Study Card. This Card will then be used to gather required signatures before being submitted on Study Card Day at the appropriate locations. Advising conversations will take place as usual. The tool is designed to enhance the shopping experience and will not restrict course shopping in any way. Once the Study Card is submitted, the courses in which students have enrolled electronically will roll to the live database. Official course selections will be available to students for viewing online the day after Study Card Day.

The course enrollment tool will be available from Saturday, September 10th, at 7:00 am through the “Courses” tab of the my.harvard portal. Students must have completed the registration process before they will be allowed to print an official Study Card. As with the registration tool, the online course enrollment application will remain live past fall Study Card Days—Friday, September 23rd, for all students except freshmen who must submit on Monday, September 26th. All students submitting their Study Cards past the 5:00 pm deadlines will be charged the usual fee of $40 per week.

Course Meetings

Course meeting times listed below are accurate as of August 19, 2005 and may differ from those printed in the Courses of Instruction 2005–2006. For up-to-date information on course offerings, please visit the on-line Courses of Instruction at www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu. For up-to-date information on course locations, please visit the on-line Addendum to the Courses of Instruction Supplement at www.registrar.fas.harvard.edu. A course Shopping and Enrollment Tool is available at the my.harvard portal for on-line course shopping and course selection. The Shopping Tool offers the ability to search for FAS courses using multiple course attributes. The Enrollment Tool provides the functionality to select courses for a term. To use the Shopping and Enrollment Tool, access the my.harvard portal by entering your ID Number and PIN. Then, click on the “Courses” tab.

*Dramatic Arts 4. East Village Performance 1980–90
Catalog Number: 5316 Enrollment: Limited to 20.
John Kelly
Half course (fall term). Tu., 3–6. EXAM GROUP: 17, 18
In this course we will examine and study the works of several performance artists who emerged from New York’s East Village in the 1980s, attempting to delineate what political, economic, and cultural conditions precipitated this artistic moment and how it fits into the larger context of the history of iconoclastic performance. Students will study these artists with the ultimate goal of creating a small performance work in the style of one of the artists examined.
Note: While three hours are reserved for class time to allow for video viewing, most class periods will end by 5 pm.
[Dramatic Arts 64] Not offered. Expected to be given in 2006–07.

History of Science 142. Historical Problems in Modern Medicine
Catalog Number: 5886

Half course (fall term). Tu., Th., 2–3:30. EXAM GROUP: 16, 17
Explores a series of contemporary problems in health and medicine in the Boston area, with the goal of understanding them better by examining their historical roots. Course assignments will focus on real-world applications: evaluating web sites, comparing newspaper coverage, proposing solutions to elected officials. Topics may include: Boston University’s proposed Biosafety Level 4 research lab; racial disparities in health in Boston; proposals to provide health insurance for all Massachusetts residents; RN shortages at local hospitals.

*Microbiology 212. Note: First session will meet for the full class period and assignments for the first session will be available on Sept. 13. Open to post-docs.

Near Eastern Civilizations 200a (formerly Islamic Civilizations 200a). Signature of instructor is not required for enrollment.

*Psychology 980nn. Personality and Leadership through Biography
Catalog Number: 5838
Mahzarin R. Banaji and members of the Department
Half course (fall term). Th., 2–4. EXAM GROUP: 16, 17
The course explores the idiographic approach to the study of leadership, contrasting it with the nomothetic approach. Drawing on the theoretical frameworks introduced by the likes of Sigmund Freud, Erik Erikson, Gordon Allport, and Abraham Maslow, the course will attempt to generate general theories of leadership from the study of particular leaders. Some of the individuals that will be studied include Thomas Jefferson, Katherine Graham, Maria Montessori, and Lee Kuan Yew.

Psychology 1862. Eating Disorders: Seminar
Catalog Number: 5871 Enrollment: Limited to 15.
Robin Rosenberg
Half course (fall term). Tu., 1–3. EXAM GROUP: 15, 16
This seminar reviews major theories and research on the etiology and treatment of eating disorders, using the biopsychosocial model as the organizing structure. Topics include: the DSM-IV classification system and its drawbacks; the biological, psychological, and social forces that contribute toward the development of eating disorders; various treatments for eating disorders and their effectiveness. Prerequisite: Psychology 18.

Psychology 1901. Offered fall term only.

Catalog Number: 3165 Enrollment: Limited to 20.
Patrick Provost-Smith (Divinity School)
Half course (fall term). Tu., 1–3. EXAM GROUP: 15, 16
Reading the “utopias” of Thomas More and Francis Bacon, with examination of the intellectual context for these works, and attention to the development of “utopia” as a philosophical critical genre. We will then read contemporary philosophical material on “utopia,” from Ernst Bloch and the early Frankfurt School. Note: Offered jointly with the Divinity School as 2284.

Religion 1498. Problems in Contemporary Theology: An Introduction
Catalog Number: 5367
Christine M. Helmer (Divinity School)
Half course (fall term). Hours to be arranged.
This course surveys the basic problems that theologians address. We will focus on how problems, such as love and evil, are analyzed, both in dialogue with representative theologians of the West and in view of theological consensus regarding how this dialogue can take place. We will also look at the relations between diverse genres of theological expression (for example, sermons, hymns) in order to appreciate how theology is communicated in different contexts. Note: Offered jointly with the Divinity School as 2404.

Religion 1591. Offered fall term.

Religion 1828. Muslims in Multicultural America
Catalog Number: 5326
Jocelyne Cesari (Sorbonne, France)
Half course (fall term). M., 1–3. EXAM GROUP: 6, 7
This course describes the ethnic and religious variety of Islamic communities in America, immigrant and indigenous. It provides analyses of the ways in which both migrants and African American Muslims are maintaining or reactivating religious practices and identifications in a secular and pluralistic society. The differences between religion, ethnicity, and culture will be discussed. The political consequences of September 11, 2001 on American Muslims will also be addressed. Note: Offered jointly with the Divinity School as 3870.
Fall 2005

Statistics 245. Offered spring term.
